

2015 Trek All-Star Student-Athlete Award

The All-Star Student Athlete Award recognizes student-athletes for their outstanding competitive achievements and potential for future success in competitive cycling.

Nash Dory, Buena High School, Arizona High School Cycling League

Nash exemplifies the student-athlete principles upon which NICA was founded. He has worked incredibly hard to maintain his grades as well as hold down a job at a local bike shop — all the while pushing himself to earn the title of Arizona State Champion all three years he has raced in the league. He is humble when accepting accolades and graceful when giving them. He is sought after for his guidance and friendship from his entire team and competitors alike. Nash has a bright future ahead of him, and we won't be surprised to see him in a future role continuing to coach and inspire the next generation of NICA riders. With that, please join me in congratulating Nash!

“This award means the world to me, not because the achievement it represents, but how competitive cycling, NICA and high school racing has changed my life. It has made me not only a better and stronger athlete, it has made me a better and stronger person as well. It has given me more confidence in myself and taught me that I can achieve even the loftiest goals I might set. It has also taught me to be more humble about my accomplishments.”
